

Pas de Deux, with wheelchair

"Everyone has a dance in them..." A wheelchair expands the dancers' movement vocabulary: Counterbalance, pushing away from a wall, or a slope control are techniques that many in wheelchairs use every day. Watch how these dancers experiment with movement and a wheelchair here.

New softer Ride Custom Back foam option

For a more forgiving user interface, an optional soft, open-cell polyurethane foam insert is now available as an alternative to the original firm, breathable composite foam liner. Supplementary reliefs help improve protection and comfort at sensitive areas. Learn more about the Ride Custom Back here. (Cutaway view shown here.)

“There is a time in the last few days of summer when the ripeness of autumn fills the air.

P.S. If you somehow missed the last TWO newsletters... the most-viewed item in both issues was a video demonstrating just how important it is that Congress and other policy makers take action to protect, not compromise, access to complex rehab technology (CRT) for those who rely on it. To help advocate for continued access to CRT, visit www.protectmymobility.org.
